Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Wednesday 18 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Some drizzle and rain, easing later. Drier in the east.

Today:
Patchy drizzle continuing through the morning for most, though easternmost areas will see drier conditions. Rain easing into the afternoon, turning generally settled throughout, but remaining cloudy. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying largely dry through the evening despite the odd patch of drizzle, with some clear spells later. Rain approaching from the west overnight, reaching Somerset by dawn. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Thursday:
Showery rain for some at first, followed by a scattering of showers later, some heavy. Occasional sunny spells through the day, and becoming generally dry by evening. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Dry and bright for most of Friday, with some rain later. More unsettled over the weekend, with widespread, heavy rain arriving on Saturday. Rain and scattered showers through Sunday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.